SUBJECT : [REDACTED]

1. A meeting was held today between the following persons: [REDACTED] (CM), [REDACTED] (CCC) and the undersigned. A question was raised whether the contract should be amended to provide for minimum monthly guarantee (since the present rate may be insufficient for the income required) and it was suggested that after checking with the private attorney in regard to propriety of such provision, and ascertaining the distribution and possible exposure on the present contract (that is, who has seen, how many copies, etc.), we may amend the original and replace it.

2. The distribution on the initial contract was found to be an original and ten copies with the following distribution: original and three to Training; two copies to [REDACTED] five retained in the Office of General Counsel.

3. Identification for the joint signers of checks under the [REDACTED] would not be necessary as long as their actions were not ultra-vires since they can sign the bills on which the payment is based in any event.

4. With regard to abrogation of the requirement for joint signatures, on a clear showing and proof of interference with operational activities, we may accomplish this with the concurrence of the Chairman, CCC.
